When we log in,we can view some css files.But there is a insecure permission so that we can view any file.
poc:
http://local`/ndxzstudio/?a=system&q=assets&edit=..\/../indexhibit-master/ndxzsite/config/config.php`

fix:The parameter we put need Rigorous testing

Great, I can use security help.

But, posting all of this to github is pretty dangerous.

You can't contact me directly with these things and give me a chance to work on them before making it public?

i have fixed this issue.

are you going to upload one thing every day? every night i get another note - i can't sleep. i'm going on vacation tomorrow.

can't you just send me a note with everything so i can do it all at once? posting like this to github, and i don't mind if people claim i don't know how github works, is creating a map for future hackers. unfortunately, there are people who don't update their sites for 10 years now...i can't control this.

you can send me a note directly at support@indexhibit.org <mailto:support@indexhibit.org>

thanks

i do really appreciate your help.

i will handle csrf shortly - i've been researching how to best resolve it.

and the new installer blocks from viewing things after installation.

thanks very much for the tip!

There is a easy way to avoid reinstalling.You deleted install.php after installed or required installer to delete it.Just a suggestion.

✉ Indexhibit commented on Feb 20, 2019   `Owner`

yes, that is suggested on the installation instructions.
